Thanks Josh. It wasn't in an email. I understand that Dana asked during a conversation last week that ARC continue to cc Gary on documents, and I was just trying to get some clarification.

Hi Adam,

Julie Sullivan is the only RPM assigned by EPA to the Leviathan Site. All submittals for the Leviathan Site should be routinely sent to Julie, and need not be cc'd to anyone else at EPA. I appreciate your introduction of the adjective "routinely." I suppose there may be times when Julie is unavailable when EPA may request that ARC cc other EPA personnel.

If you have received mixed messages in some email, please forward it to me.

Thanks.

Josh

Josh – We're getting some mixed signals from EPA. Should ARC be routinely copying Gary Riley and Dana Barton on correspondence and other submittals relating to both Removal Action Work and the RI/FS?

Hi Adam,

The answer to your question is no, Gary is not being reassigned to oversee the removal actions at Leviathan on an ongoing basis.

Gary's involvement is necessary for transition of the site to Julie, since Lynda retired prior to the designation of Julie as her successor.

Regards,

Josh

Thanks Josh. Are we going back to having two RPMs – Gary for Removal Action work and Julie for RI/FS work – or will Julie be the sole RPM?

Hello Mr. Halsey and Mr. Brown,

I'm writing to let you know that EPA has selected a new Remedial Project Manager, Julie Sullivan, for the Leviathan Site. We're looking forward to introducing her to you in person on September 29 during the site tour with the Washoe Tribe (or otherwise). Here is a brief description of Julie's background and her contact information. Gary Riley and I will continue to work closely with Julie as she becomes familiar with the site.

Julie Sullivan has been a project manager with the EPA since January 2017. Prior to joining the EPA, Julie was an environmental consultant for more than 19 years, serving private companies and public organizations in the US and Canada. She is a licensed professional engineer experienced in the areas of project leadership and management, business development, site assessment and investigation, remedial alternative evaluation, remedial design and implementation, cost estimating and cost recovery analyses, hazardous waste management, and regulatory analysis and negotiation.
